

BORDERLESS DEFINED

Newsletter of Borderless Interpreting & Translation, LLC

Learning Materials in Japanese

Newsletter No. 111 issued by Noriko Rogers (May 2, 2022)

Today, I would like to share this tweet containing a number of learning materials in Japanese. They are made available by government agencies, academic institutions and leading businesses.

They are free to use and the subject matters include Excel (data notation for statistical charts), finance and data analytics, to name a few. (I searched the titles instead if the links in the tweet seemed broken. For example, this link still worked for The Elements of Style. I also believe this is the series of articles by Kearney.)

I reviewed parts of the Financial Services Agency document, and while the information would be useful for anyone interested in learning about financial well-being and related topics, it would also act as a great parallel text for linguists. For that reason alone, I think it is worthwhile downloading or bookmarking these resources while they are available.

The next Borderless Defined will be in your inbox in the week of May 16th. Thanks for reading!

Noriko Rogers

Borderless Interpreting & Translation, LLC

(1) This newsletter is exclusively distributed to those who have either exchanged business cards or contact information with Noriko Rogers and have granted permission in writing to subscribe to this service.

(2) If you wish to update your e-mail address, please reply directly to this e-mail with your new address.

(3) Please note that I do not disclose your private information to any third parties.

(4) Please feel free to forward this newsletter to anyone who might be interested.

Borderless Interpreting & Translation, LLC

Plain City, Ohio, USA

+1 (614) 705-5068

URL: www.borderlessinterpreting.com

Contact: noriko@borderlessinterpreting.com

mailer lite